About OceanX

OceanX is a non – exclusive global network of leading ocean freight providers and NVOCCs dedicated to delivering bespoke innovative solutions, in particular on FCL services, LCL consolidation, dangerous goods and chemical logistics, temperature control, as well as project cargo handling.

Ocean X provides a multi-platform of seafreight specialists, committed to inject a greater degree of ocean freight expertise into the logistics industry, revive specialization, and to drive innovation and buying power across the shipping supply chain.

The organization was founded in Switzerland by a group of freight entrepreneurs and consultants, sharing a common goal of creating an elite group of seafreight experts to service the logistics community and is supported by experienced industry executives.

Our Vision is for OceanX to serve as a platform not only to connect companies and people but also to connect ideas, thereby becoming the nurturing ground for innovative solutions and Ventures.

Our Aim is to build competitive advantages through advanced & customized cargo community tools, and by setting new standards of excellence for the ocean shipping trade.

Our Goal is to become the world's most powerful grouping of independent ocean logistics providers around the globe and recognized through vertical, trade lane, sales focus, carrier focus, and/or specialisation expertise.

Under its Executive Development Program, OceanX partners with external institutions and experts but also with member firms, to offer courses on a variety of relevant subjects, for the talent development within our member's organisations and beyond.

The program covers seafreight related subjects, specialisation topics, strategy, leadership, digitalisation, transformation management as well as cost, efficiency and process improvement.

The interactive learning sessions, include lectures, case studies, group tasks and discussion rounds, all aiming to combine practical experience and abilities with a reflective perspective, building the skills to tackle internal reinvention through widening horizons.

Partnering with a range of international institutions, universities, startups and consulting groups, OceanX does not only aim to be a thinktank for its members, but to combine practice and theory supporting the professional development of member's talent and their organisations.

INNOVATING The oceanfreight industry

Our Mission is to partner with our first-class members to reach new heights by delivering innovative products and effective vertical solutions to the global supply chain.

Innovation is at the core of what OceanX is about. Our objective is to assemble great companies to jointly redefine the standards of our industry.

The network is partnering with inspiring individuals, companies and organisations, developing new products and strategic cooperations that aim for industry reinvention, from procurement to sales and service delivery.

OceanX aspires to be the platform for ideas in shipping and ocean logistics.

Common Challenges

Our industry is seeing fundamental changes. Technology does enable new business models and challenges existing ones. Automation will impact traditional processes and eliminate simple information arbitrage through asset light models.

Virtualisation of services will change the way logistics companies are organised. Differentiation in the market will be based on other criteria and the traditional value proposition will need to adapt.

Approaching these challenges alone and on a local or regional level only, will not suffice, a collaborative approach with a global perspective must be the answer.
